

Pelvic Catarrh

I Would Not Do Without Peruna.

Miss Emelie A. Haberkorn, 2251 Gravois Ave., St. Louis, Mo., writes: "For over two years I was troubled with catarrh of the pelvic organs. I heard of Dr. Hartman's book, 'The Ills of Life.' I read it and wrote to the doctor, who answered my letter promptly. I began taking treatment as soon as possible. Tongue cannot express how I suffered. I feel grateful for what the doctor has done for me, and would not do without Peruna. I now enjoy as good health as ever. I find it has improved my health so much that I will recommend it to any one cheerfully."

Queer.
"Poverty is no crime," observed the Sage.
"Maybe not," added the Fool. "But it is always punished by hard labor."

These Draws.
Col. Sigismund L. Goodwin, the well-known tactician, said at a dinner in Lincoln:

"A good deal of the war news—that from Berlin no less than that from London, Paris and Petrograd—reminds me irresistibly of little Willie.

"Papa," said little Willie, looking up from the Evening Bulletin's extra special, papa, what is a drawn battle?"

"A drawn battle, my son," the father replied, "is one wherein the enemy wins."

The Surprise Ending.
Two young men, "Mr. Smith" and "Mr. Jones" were talking at a dancing party when a pretty young woman passed and spoke to "Smith."

"Gee," said "Jones," "who's that? I'd like to meet her."

"You can," said "Smith." "She's a relative of mine." The introduction followed. "Jones" was enthusiastic and captured a couple of dances. Then, feeling better acquainted, he urged her to permit him to accompany her home.

"But, you see, I must go with my husband," she said.

"Your husband?" ejaculated "Jones." "Who's he?"

"Why, he introduced us; didn't you know?" she asked, innocently. Exit "Jones."

DOCTOR KNEW
Had Tried It Himself.

The doctor who has tried Postum, knows that it is an easy, certain, and pleasant way out of the coffee habit and all of the ills following and he prescribes it for his patients as did a physician of Prospertown, N. J.

One of his patients says:
"During the summer just past I suffered terribly with a heavy feeling at the pit of my stomach and dizzy feelings in my head and then a blindness would come over my eyes so I would have to sit down. I would get so nervous I could hardly control my feelings.

"Finally I spoke to our family physician about it and he asked if I drank much coffee and mother told him that I did. He told me to immediately stop drinking coffee and drink Postum in its place, as he and his family had used Postum and found it a powerful re-builder and delicious food-drink.

"I hesitated for a time, dreading the idea of having to give up my coffee, but finally I got a package and found it to be all the doctor said.

"Since drinking Postum in place of coffee my dizziness, blindness and nervousness are all gone, my bowels are regular and I am well and strong. That is a short statement of what Postum has done for me."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkg.

Postum comes in two forms: Regular Postum—must be well boiled. 15c and 25c packages. Instant Postum—is a soluble powder. A teaspoonful dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water and, with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. 30c and 50c tins.

The cost per cup of both kinds is about the same.

WHEN THE GERMANS REACHED THE NORTH SEA

Above, German infantry, deflected from Ghent and Bruges, passing through Blankenburghe, just outside Ostend. Below, the kaiser's infantry which entered Ostend, marching along the sands of the North sea at that port, which they hoped to utilize as a base of operations against England.

Among the many women of the British nobility who are giving their services to the Red Cross is Lady Lethbridge, who established a hospital at Calais, where thousands of wounded Belgians and Germans are cared for.

COUNTESS GREY'S MILITARY HOSPITAL

Countess Grey has converted her beautiful home, Howick castle, Northumberland, into a hospital for wounded British and Belgian soldiers, and she attends them with her two daughters. The photograph shows Serjt. Joseph Jacobs of the Tirlemont regiment showing his wounds and narrating his experiences to two of the workers at Howick castle. He is only eighteen years old, but was in every engagement of the Belgians from Liege to Malines.

TROOPS OF THE CZAR IN TRENCHES

The success of the Russians in Austria is said to be due largely to the precision with which they are moved from one position to another. A detachment of the infantry is here shown in the trenches.

256,839 Prisoners in Germany.

London.—A Reuter dispatch from Amsterdam says that, according to Berlin newspapers received there, the number of war prisoners in Germany up to October 21, aggregated 296,869, including 5,401 officers. Of these it is said that there are 2,472 French officers and 146,897 men, 2,164 Russian officers and 104,524 men, 547 Belgian officers and 31,378 men and 218 British officers and 8,669 men.

War to Put Lid on Absinthe.

Paris.—Permanent prohibition of the sale of absinthe and kindred alcoholic beverages in France may be a result of the war. Transportation and sale of absinthe were forbidden when the war began, and the government now has supplemented this order with another forbidding the sale of alcoholic drinks similar to absinthe.

Honor for Undersea Chief.

Berlin.—Captain Weddigen, commander of the German submarine U9 which sank the British cruisers Hogue-Aboukir, and Cressy in the North sea and has been active otherwise, has received the decoration of the Ordre Pour le Merite.

Cossack Cloak and Joffre Hat.

Paris.—The Joffre hat and Cossack cloak are definite features of Paris winter fashions. The hat is made of dark velvet. It is round and flat with a peak. The cloak is heavy and loose, ending at the knees.

WHAT INFANTRYMEN CARRY ON CAMPAIGN

The infantryman at Rouen who said the 96 pounds he had on his back was too much said what he felt rather than what he knew. The actual weight is rather less than half that. The cartridges in his ammunition pouch weigh 9 pounds, his accoutrements 8 pounds 4 1/2 ounces, the contents of his pack 10 pounds 3/4 ounce, while his food store, consisting of the "emergency ration" and water, together weigh 5 pounds 12 1/2 ounces, making a total of 35 pounds 14 1/2 ounces. In addition to these "packages" he has a rifle and a bayonet, which on the march he carries as he likes, and in a battle as the enemy dislikes; together they weigh 10 pounds 8 1/2 ounces. So, instead of staggering along with 96 pounds, he actually carries 46 pounds 4 1/2 ounces.

New Game of French Aviators. The French aviators have a new game since they have been brought into active service with the armies in the field. This consists of counting the number of bullet holes in their machines after the flights of the day. Each bullet hole is marked with red chalk so that it cannot be counted in the next day's score. The record at present is held by one of the bird-men, who counted 37 bullet holes in his aeroplane after a flight. He is allowed to be the "recordman du monde," and, according to his fellow-aviators he has earned the title.

LOADING A FRENCH GUN WITH A CRANE

So heavy are the shells fired by some of the French field pieces that they have to be loaded into the gun by means of a crane, which is a part of the equipment of the great engine of death. The gun is set in what is known as a well and the gun carriage works on wheels so that the recoil carries it backward on a smooth platform.

EMPERESS EUGENIE AS NURSE

Uses Her Home as Hospital and Personally Supervises Care of Officers.

London.—Although the Empress Eugenie is almost 80 years old, she is taking the greatest interest in the war and has set aside an entire wing of her house at Farnborough Hill for the use of wounded officers. Several injured officers are now recuperating there and their aged hostess personally supervises their care.

Her estate is near the great camp at Aldershot, which King George and Queen Mary visit frequently. Practically all of Empress Eugenie's men servants have joined the army in France. Nevertheless, she entertains many of the distinguished military men who visit Aldershot, apologizing for her plain fare and explaining that her cooks have more important work now than preparing food for an aged empress and her guests.

Britain Increases Pensions.

London.—A white paper will be issued announcing a substantial increase in the pensions for disabled soldiers, but it will not concede £1 weekly, which has been asked. The childless widow will receive 7s 6d weekly and may qualify for an old age pension. The additional pension for a first child is 5s weekly and a half-crown each week for the next three. For the fifth child and onward 2s each is allowed weekly. Thus a widow with five children would get 22s each week.

DRIVER OSBORNE

Driver Osborne of L battery, Royal Horse artillery, is likely to receive the Victoria Cross for conspicuous bravery. The battery was surprised by the Germans, every officer and most of the men were killed or wounded, and all but one of the guns put out of action. Osborne and two others stuck by the remaining gun and silenced the German pieces one by one until finally the enemy retreated.

COLONEL BRODGES

Colonel Brodges of the British army has been highly praised for his bravery in action, has been decorated by the French government with the ribbon of the Legion of Honor, and is slated to receive the Victoria Cross and the Distinguished Service order.

When the name of a new town that's spelled chiefly with consonants bobs up in the press dispatches, what can a harassed telegraph editor do but shut his eyes and hope for the best?

Dutch Provide Pleasant Quarters.

The Dutch have chosen pleasant places for the internment of the English who have been forced to cross into their neutral territory. Groningen is a town of fine houses and wide, clean streets, in which enough sixteenth-century houses remain to give it an old-world air. Gardens and promenades abound and in the center lies a group of open spaces, chief among them the large market square, in which the French republicans planted their tree of liberty in 1795.

SCHOOL TEACHER OF FRANCE A WAR HERO

Paris.—Not all heroes are soldiers. From a private letter is gleaned the following account of the conduct of a certain school teacher. In the battle of August 23 he aided in caring for the wounded and helped to encourage the French soldiers. Though himself wounded by a piece of shell, he continued to administer the affairs of the village whence the officials had fled. When the Germans entered he was made a prisoner and was threatened with death, but he was released, and misled a column of Prussians, thus facilitating the retreat of the forty-fourth French infantry. Obtaining permission from the Germans to gather the dead and wounded, he helped to bury the bodies. He secretly interred 30 German shells and numerous belts of mitrailleuse ammunition. He tended the wounded with such skill and firmness that the Germans thought him a surgeon.
